

March 1, 2017

Tropicanna's a star on About.com's popular website The Spruce!

In her article Growing Canna Lilies in Containers, container gardening expert Kerry Michaels tells The Spruce readers: My favorite varieties of cannas are 'Tropicanna', 'Tropicanna Black' and 'Tropicanna Gold.' Each is spectacular and will grow from 4-6 feet tall. They are good humored plants, not demanding too much care.

In his piece – Tropicanna Canna Offers Fast Growth Rate, Colorful Leaves – landscape designer David Beaulieu writes:

Tropicanna, in particular, is highly valued for its tropical foliage. Moreover, the flowers will draw butterflies and attract hummingbirds.

Photograph © Kerry Michaels

Make certain your customers know how popular Tropicanna is with garden writers across the country! They're promoting it and home gardeners are looking to buy it!